Carmen Martínez Ten chairs in Brussels the First Regulatory Conference on Nuclear Safety in Europe organised by ENSREG ^[2]

ENSREG's First Regulatory Conference on Nuclear Safety in Europe will deal in Brussels June 28 and 29 on improving the common approach towards nuclear safety. At the opening session today, chair of this conference and President of the Spanish Consejo de Seguridad Nuclear (CSN), Carmen Martínez Ten, stated that the European Group of Nuclear Regulators (ENSREG) undertook this project a year ago, before the serious accident at the Fukushima Dai-ichi Nuclear Power Plants in Japan set back nuclear safety at the core of global issues.

European nuclear regulators back closer international cooperation and further harmonisation of the rules ^[3]

Brussels (Belgium) this evening saw the conclusion of the First Regulatory Conference on Nuclear Safety organised by the European Nuclear Regulators Group (ENSREG), chaired by Carmen Martínez Ten, President of the Consejo de Seguridad Nuclear (CSN - Nuclear Safety Council), in collaboration with André-Claude Lacoste and Dr. Ann McGarry, acting as Vice-Chairs.
