A summary of NPP license holders' views on the 1st Topical Peer Review process

The NPPs are already subject to numerous peer reviews and assessments (National Authorities, self-assessments, WANO, IAEA/OSART, IAEA/SALTO, Insurance pools, ...), hence low impact outcomes are expected

The main benefits expected from the peer review on ageing management should be:

- Sharing experience and good practice and to learn from each other
- Increasing confidence in the adequacy of ageing management programmes

Licensees have been actively involved from the beginning of the TPR process. There is a view that there could be further clarifications of what is expected from the licensees, and importance of making the process as efficient as possible
